

Men

I normally never reshare things I receive.

However, I did watch this video before sending it, and I considered it critically important.

I must share it with you and ask you to share it with other Christians

I know you are busy with other things, however, this is knowledge that should be shared.

It is with sadness and heavy heart that I write to you of our transition out of Teammates. As servant leader for our family, I have the care for the spiritual and physical wellness to the best of my ability. In 1997, we came to McLean Bible Church from Springfield and community caring. We served in many roles in all these years and have been with teammates from the beginning. We love tea

For us, McLean Bible Church is less of the community church we need to continue to grow in Christ and in community. It has been a diminishing in the teaching, worship, application, and community caring in general. Teammates has been the one last Sunday. It is just too difficult to worship at Immanuel and then try drive to Teammates each Sunday morning.

We love you guys and will miss Teammates
